Dear DLCD hiring team,

I am writing to express strong interest in the Web Developer (Information Systems Specialist 6) role supporting DLCD's Information Technology Division. The position's blend of legacy .NET modernization, Django and other web stacks, SQL Server and Postgres, and APIs that share data safely with partner agencies matches how I have worked for years: ticket-driven production support, tight collaboration with analysts on requirements, and ownership of documentation so systems stay understandable long after launch.

In large enterprise environments I've led and contributed to platform migrations, explicit service/API boundaries, and data-heavy integrations where reliability directly affects customers and internal staff. I'm comfortable diagnosing production issues, planning incremental releases, and pairing with business partners to turn planning goals into concrete acceptance criteria-aligned with DLCD's statewide land-use mission and the agency's emphasis on equitable, sustainable communities.

I hold a BS in Computer Information Systems, am a U.S. veteran, and welcome hybrid collaboration anchored in the Salem area. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how DLCD prioritizes modernization (framework targets, off-the-shelf options, and governance) and how I can help reduce risk during migration.

Thank you for your consideration.

Best regards, [Your name]
